Itinerary

Come with us to explore the amazing diversity of birds on Morro Bay! Numerous habitats in such a small area make for incredible birdwatching and a kayak is the best way to get to all these different areas in Morro Bay. Pelicans, cormorants, egrets, herons, osprey, peregrine falcons and numerous shorebirds can be seen all year round. From mid November to March our winter migrants are here and you can also see ducks, geese, grebes, loons, and an even a greater diversity of shorebirds. Depending on tides and season, we'll explore mudflats, salt marsh, deeper water and the heron rookery (active from spring through late summer)

Climate / Weather

The climate along the coast in Morro Bay is temperate year round, with daily high temperatures rarely exceeding the mid 50s to mid 70s range with most days having highs somewhere in the 60s. Spring days are often breezy and in summer there is often fog for at least part of the day. Fall tends to have the warmest and clearest weather. In winter we may encounter rain, but a significant number of winter days on the bay feature calm conditions and crystal clear air.
